The vast majority of your gift goes towards life-changing projects around the world.

Farmer Training and Hunger Alleviation: Your gift helps provide new seed variations and trains farmers in new methods so that they can increase their crop yields by 200% to 300%.

Savings Groups and Loans: Through savings groups and business coaching, you're helping individuals, mostly women, start new businesses, access loans, and grow their wealth so that they can climb out of poverty once and for all.

Emergency Relief: When disaster strikes we need to act fast. A portion of your gift will go into our emergency relief fund that can be immediately accessed to help families in times of emergency.

Church Empowerment / Equipping: We believe that the church is the only entity to change lives physically AND spiritually. Your gift will help local churches effectively reach their communities and act as salt and light.

Long-term Sustainability and Adaptation: Weather patterns are changing and drought is becoming more frequent. Your gift will help families adapt to this new normal so that they can continue to not just survive—but thrive.

When a parent doesn't know where the next meal will come from, this contributes a lot of stress.

When her husband died in 2019, Franscisca didn't know what she would do. It was hard enough to make ends meet before. But now a widow, taking care of her 5 young children seemed impossible. "I couldn't pay rent and was eventually locked out of my house. The only work I had was to sell firewood and tomatoes."

Over the last few years, changing weather patterns in the arid region of Katuulani, Kenya has made farming even more difficult. When there is no rain, there is hunger. Children don't go to school because of the lack of food.

But our God is a God of hope. And through the local church things began to turn around.

Thanks to people like you, Franscisca learned new farming methods that helped her grow more food. "The new farming methods being taught amazed me. When you compare the old with the new there is a huge difference. One is dry and the other still green," she tells us.

Along with the training, Franscisca also was enrolled in a savings group. There, she learned how to save and slowly grow her wealth and eventually was able to take a loan and buy some chickens. "These loans boosted me and helped me buy food for my children and pay school fees. Once the chickens lay eggs, I can sell them."

Run in partnership with the local church, these programs are helping families living in extreme poverty find Renewed Hope. Not just physically, but spiritually as well.

"I can only thank God because he has brought me this far. I bring my children to Sunday school. I love my children and continue to lead them to follow God. He is the Father to the fatherless."

For the first time in decades, global hunger is increasing.

But you can help change that.

Due to conflict, climate, and inflation, an estimated 75 million people will be pushed into extreme poverty this year. Unpredictable rains mean that access to water is a major challenge. Crop failures are common. Families are suffering.

But in the midst of pain, stories of renewal are being told. God is using his local church to transform lives and bring new hope. And he's called us to play a part.

Please join us to help more families like Franscisca's today.
