Your outpour of generosity each month ensures:

- A mom struggling to feed her children receives training from her church on farming methods that enable her to grow two to three times more food. Now she is able to feed her children year-round.
- This same mom joins a local savings group where she is financially empowered. As her confidence grows, she takes a small loan to expand her farm, creating a path to long-term abundance.
- Through Tearfund's church-based community transformation training, she learns about Jesus and her value as a woman of God. The group also supports each other in times of distress.

‘What motivates us to give to Tearfund is the fact that we want our giving to be both development work as well as involved in the spread of the gospel. And we think that Tearfund does that combination really, really well by working through the local church’
